A Home Away from Home

Social Justice and Spirituality

Often we see spirituality as a personal concern between God and self, and possibly those closest to me in my family or Christian community. In this workshop we will explore a fully incarnational spirituality that is personal AND social, and lived out in community in the midst of creation. In looking at sacred scripture and Catholic Social Teaching, we will discuss a spirituality that is both engaged, dynamic, and has the potential to change our world.

Bob McKeon has recently retired from the Office for Social Justice of the Catholic Archdiocese of Edmonton. Bob has a Ph.D. in theology from St. Michael's College at the University of Toronto. He has taught courses in theology and social ethics for many years at Newman Theological College and St. Joseph's College, University of Alberta. He has been involved for over 30 years in board leadership positions with several community and church organizations in inner city Edmonton addressing issues of poverty, health, hunger, housing, and community and economic development.
