Note: Participants may source their own copy of The Story of Ruth – Twelve Moments in Every Woman's Life by Joan Chittister OSB. This book is recommended reading for the workshop series.*

Detail:

Though the story of Ruth is an ancient story, it is our story too.

The following extraordinary inscription, handwritten in a second hand copy of Joan Chittister's book, inspired and shaped this workshop series: "...be reminded of your inner courage and strength to follow the paths that are 'life-giving.' Every woman's journey is filled with challenges, adventures, disappointments and sorrows; but it also offers, in great abundance, profound joy and great rewards for our patient efforts. All women must journey with wisdom, strength and the conviction to define ourselves as 'woman' in our society."

Using Joan Chittister's book we will visit the twelve moments that ultimately shape us, with the hope of coming home to one's self.

This workshop series will offer a blend of story-telling, discussion, and creative expression. Participants will leave the session having created special mementos, capturing their personal connections to the moments shared in the Story of Ruth.

Presenters:

Gisele Bauche is a professional artist who has been offering art workshops in a variety of mediums for many years. Her background in theology, scripture and art led her to integrate her art and spirituality. Gisele sees creative expression and the creative process as transformative, and as a means to assist one on their spiritual journey. Gisele offers retreats on Spirituality and Creative Process, Contemplation and Art, Healing and Art, Creativity and the Creative Process, and Iconography. She provides leadership with the Spiritual Direction Formation Program which is offered at Queen's House, and is a member of the Queen's House Programming Team. Her art work has been featured in the Catholic Extension Society's Calendar of Canada, Augsburg Fortress and Novalis Publications. Her art work has been commissioned by churches, organizations and institutions. Gisele authored the book, Giving Glory to God: Reflections of an Artist.

Janice Cook is the Program Coordinator at Emmanuel Anglican Church with The Refinery Arts and Spirit Centre. She is responsible for the design and coordination of programs offered at The Refinery Arts and Spirit Centre, as well as facility rentals and community engagement bookings in Emmanuel facilities. This role allows Janice to meet and work with people who live and work in our arts community and serve those who are passionate about nurturing their mind, body, and spirit. Connecting people and gathering community is the foundation of her work.
