FR. RON ROLHEISER OMI

An internationally recognized theologian, an in-demand speaker, an award-winning writer and columnist in the area of contemporary spirituality.

Spiritual Health and Wellness – Symptoms, Diagnoses & Some Counsel for the Long Haul

Fr. Ron will name our present moment in terms of its impact on our health and wellness. Provide some essentials for spiritual health and wellness – without letting the perfect crucify the good and offer counsel for sustaining ourselves, our morale, our sanity, and our sense of humor.

LEAH PERRAULT

Leah is the Executive Director of Southwest Homes in Swift Current. She is a Catholic writer and speaker, married to Marc and mom to Robyn, Eliot, Charlize and Atticus. You can find her online at www.leahperrault.com.

Hospitality: A Pathway Through Polarization

In a world that has become increasingly divided, we will explore the divine invitation to make space for one other. In our hearts and in our healthcare, we are invited to explore how God's radical hospitality can make a way through what seems impassable. We will explore the practical parts of a virtue that can change us - and the world.

MARY HEILMAN

PhD in Public Policy from the U of S and bioethicist for St. Paul's Hospital and CHAS

Entertaining Angels: The Ethics of Hospitality

Hospitality asks, how do I welcome the "other" – people who differ from us in their culture, faith & economic status, or oppose our beliefs about sexuality & dying.

TRACEY CARR

PhD, researcher at U of S - Medicine & lecturer in Psychology - St. Thomas More College

Fostering Hospitable Conversations in Health Care Delivery

Healthcare has become more complex. Participants will have the opportunity to explore how we make difficult personal healthcare decisions & how to support patients as they make choices about their care.

GREG HOFFORT

E.D. St. Joseph's Hospital of Estevan & Radville Marian Health Centre

St. Joseph's Addiction Recovery Centre – Living the Catholic Health Mission

Our Catholic legacy & desire to live the Catholic Health Mission to serve the most vulnerable among us led us on our journey to gain Government Approval to open an innovative addiction recovery process in Estevan.

CINDY LEWANS

Associate Chaplain, Sherbrooke Community Centre & Central Haven

Spiritual Care for Those Living with Dementia

We will consider some common issues and needs of those living with dementia, practice a few recommended responses from dementia care experts & highlight some helpful resources.

DR. JAMES MACMILLAN

Palliative Care: The Possibility of a Holistic Hospitality

Will explore a palliative approach to care, discussing accompaniment & faithful presence when walking with those with life-threatening illnesses. We will explore gaps in our networks of care & potential opportunities for service & advocacy.

POPE FRANCIS' APOLOGY AND THE PATH TOWARD RECONCILIATION

WALKING TOGETHER

Our panelists will help us to appreciate the importance of Pope Francis' apology and the work that still needs to be done.

ROSALIE TSANNIE-BURSETH

a member of the Hatchet Lake Denesuline First Nation, a former student at St. Michael's Residential School in Duck Lake and a candidate enrolled in Interdisciplinary Graduate Studies at the U of S, studying Denesuline history, language, and culture.

ANN LAFLEUR

a gifted Metis woman and elder from Beauval, SK who participated in Pope Francis' Apology in Rome. Ann serves her Catholic community and contributes to various community gatherings and traditional ceremonies with poise and grace that inspires those she is with.

HARRY LAFOND

Muskeg Lake Cree Nation. In his work with students at St. Thomas More College and in the community, he is an advocate for reconciliation and the Cree language. This fall Harry will receive the Order of Merit, Saskatchewan's highest honor.

ARCHBISHOP MURRAY CHATLAIN

Diocese of Keewatin-Le Pas, a diocese of 50,000+ Catholics, 80% of which are Indigenous and Metis. He calls the four years he lived among the Dene in Black Lake and Fond du Lac his "Dene Seminary."
